

Capital Gains; What to do in London

CAPITAL GAINS

What to do in London

BY CLARA STRUNCK

I ALL BOOKED UP
 Cityroad returns next week for its annual festival, turning London into a massive, interactive book group for a month. This year, the city's collective page-turner is Ayisha Malik's Soefa Khan is Not Obligated, a classic romance for the modern age. J-SJ May (cityroadlondon.com)

Colour UP
 Grenada-born British artist Denzil Furester will be the talk of the town when his large-scale installation is unveiled at Brixton Tube station later this year. Get to know his work before the masses at his new exhibition – a riotously colourful exploration of London's reggae and dub scene. Until 26 May (stephenfriedman.com)

3 RUN THIS TOWN
 Stocking up on energy gels and polishing your trainers or settling down with a mug of tea to watch the London Marathon on telly? The race divides us all. To the runners: good luck. To the non-runners: another cuppa? 28 Apr

HIT THE BID TIME
 Pursuing priceless paintings can work up quite an appetite; lucky, then, that the guys behind Clipstone and The Quality Chophouse are opening their fourth restaurant, Emilia, in Bonhams auction house in Mayfair. Sold! Opens 26 Apr (emilia.restaurantgroup.co.uk)

6 MAKING THE GRADE
 Breakthrough actress Elsie Fisher (left) gives great red carpet. But it's her performance in Eighth Grade that's set to make her a star. Written and directed by Bo Burnham, this coming-of-age comedy is perfectly on point. Out 26 Apr

7 Learn THE YARD WAY
 The achingly cool Art Yard Bar & Kitchen at Bankside Hotel has us yearning for long, sultry evenings al fresco, with a G&T in one hand and a slice of its signature, wood-fired pizza in the other. The summer terrace opens next week. From 1 May (banksidehotel.com)

LAST CHANCE: The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time, the adaptation of Mark Haddon's bestseller, is in its last days at the Piccadilly Theatre. Until 27 Apr (thepiccadillytheatre.com)

LOOK AHEAD: Discover the work of photographer Gerty Simon at the Wiener Library's exhibition of her moving portraits from the early 20th century. 30 May to 16 Oct (wienerlibrary.org.uk)

FOR MORE THINGS TO DO AROUND TOWN, VISIT STANDARDLONDON.CO.UK

22.04.19 ES MAGAZINE 5